Reset the field values of an item

Version: 10.2

If you have edited the field values of an item and need to change the values back to, for example, the standard values of the item, you can reset field values.

The field values that you can reset to depend on the configuration of the item. For example, if the item is a clone, you can reset the values of the original item and not the standard values.

To reset the field values:

2. On the ribbon, on the Versions tab, in the Fields group, click Reset.

In the Reset Field Values dialog box, you can see the field values of the current item version in the left column. In the right column, you see the values that you can reset the fields to.
